The number of Evening Students was 437, being an increase of 49 as compared with the previous Session; 365 Students attended the Vacation Courses, as compared with 214 in the previous Session. Adding these together, the total is 3228, being an increase of 195 on the previous year. The Students were distributed as follows:—

Grand total	1755	1473	3228

284 Students of other Colleges attended Intercollegiate Lectures.

There were 1376 Students working for Degrees and 689 for Diplomas.

The geographical districts from which the Students came are given in Appendix I. (see p. 69).

The total fees available for the service of the Session 1925–26 amounted to £64,397 3*s.* 8*d.*, an increase of £3,185 18*s.* 9*d.* on the previous Session.

THE CURRENT SESSION (1926–27).

The number of Students who have completed their registration and paid fees up to January 31st, 1927 (including Vacation Courses), is 2871, as compared with 2863 (including Vacation Courses) at the corresponding date in 1926.

The fee revenue (including fees of London County Council and Board of Education Students) to January 31st, 1927, amounts to £58,741, showing an increase of £1,286 as compared with the corresponding date in 1926.

GENERAL FINANCES.

Financial Year 1925–26.

The Accounts for the year ended 31st July, 1926, are appended to this Report (Appendix II., pp. 71–87).

College Establishment Income and Expenditure Account.

Income.—The ordinary income amounted to £188,658 11*s.* 11*d.* as compared with £171,022 18*s.* 3*d.* in 1924–25, an increase of £17,635 13s. 8*d.* The improved position, as compared with 1924–25, is mainly accounted for as follows:—

(i.) Increased Treasury Grant	£11,000
(ii.) Students' Fees	3,186
(iii.) University of London for the Department of Applied Statistics and Eugenics	500
(iv.) Interest and Dividends	234
(v.) Grants from other local authorities	742

Expenditure.—The ordinary expenditure amounted to £179,886 10*s.* 0*d.* as compared with £174,524 13*s.* 1*d.*; an increase of £5,361 16*s.* 11*d.* The additional expenditure is almost entirely due to the increases in the salaries of the Professorial and Non-Professorial Members of the Teaching Staff, and increased grants for the Libraries.

The excess of ordinary income over ordinary expenditure for the Session 1925–26 was, therefore, £8,772 1*s.* 11*d.* To this sum should be added £260, being the difference between the amount received and paid in connection with the arrears of increased grant for salaries and superannuation in respect of London County Council Chairs and Readership for the Sessions 1923–24 and 1924–25. This sum (£260) was paid to the Members of the Staff concerned before the grant was actually received, and appears in the Accounts for the relevant Sessions. Thus the total excess of income over expenditure for the year 1925–26 was £9,032 1*s.* 11*d.*

The accumulated deficit on the Income and Expenditure Account at the end of the Session 1924–25 amounted to £16,030 11*s.* 11*d.* The excess of income over expenditure referred to above (£9,032 1*s.* 11*d.*) has been applied in reduction of the accumulated deficit, thereby leaving a debt of £6,998 10*s.* 0*d.*, to be carried forward to the current Session.

In presenting this Report, which shows that the accumulated deficits have now been reduced to £6,998 10*s.* 0*d.*, the University College Committee desire to point out that this has only been achieved by the postponement of increases of salaries, of works to buildings, and by the most drastic economy in every detail of the College working. It will be seen from the accounts that the expenditure on ordinary Repairs and General Maintenance of Buildings was reduced to £3,879, whereas the normal expenditure for the proper upkeep of the buildings is between £5,000 and £6,000.

The Balance Sheets.

Trust Funds Balance Sheet :—

The following new Trust Funds have been received :—

(iii.) Antonio Cippico Medal and Prize Fund—handed over by the Cippico Testimonial Committe	228	0	0

The Current Financial Year.

Estimates 1926–27.

The Estimates for the current Session (1926–27) show an excess of ordinary income over ordinary expenditure of £3,259; of this sum £3,200 has been provided for the redemption of the debt of £6,998 10*s.* 0*d.*, that existed at the end of the past financial year.

Reference has already been made to the cost of repairs and general maintenance of buildings in dealing with the accounts for the Session 1925–26.

The College Committee have reviewed the salaries of all Members of the Academic and Administrative Staffs, but in doing so they have been obliged, in view of the difficult financial position, to refrain from recommending increases of salaries in cases for which increases of salaries were provided last year, unless the circumstances in any particular case are quite exceptional, or unless a rearrangement of duties has taken place or is contemplated.

THE CENTENARY APPEAL.

Reference was made in last year's Report to the issue of the Appeal for £500,000 in connection with the celebration of the Centenary of the College.

The complete Appeal document has been sent to all members of the College so far as their addresses are known; but it may be convenient to summarise once again the objects included in the Appeal. They are as follows:—The Great Hall, £30,000; Endowment of Teaching, £225,000; Completion of the Gower Street Front, £25,000; Chemical Laboratories: Electrical Installation, £15,000; Zoology and Comparative Anatomy: Site and Buildings, £50,000; Applied Mathematics and Physics: Reconstruction and Equipment, £8,000; Engineering: Completion of Laboratories and Equipment, £18,000; Accommodation for Faculties of Arts and Laws, £25,000; Chemical Engineering Laboratory: Equipment and Endowment, £60,000; Libraries: Endowment and Reconstruction, £30,000; Scandinavian Studies: Endowment, £10,000.

It is satisfactory to be able to report that, in spite of very disadvantageous circumstances resulting from the Coal Strike, a sum of £77,954 15*s.* 0*d.* has already been collected, chiefly from members of the College and friends and from former benefactors, who have maintained their interest in the College.

The Appeal Committee regard this beginning as satisfactory in the circumstances, and it is their policy to prosecute vigorously the Appeal between the present date and the end of the current Session, when the Centenary Celebrations take place. They are convinced that, with the full co-operation of all members of the College, they will be able to increase the Appeal Fund very substantially before then.

Marked progress has characterised three sections of the Appeal. The capital sum of £10,000 required for Scandinavian Studies has been actually over-subscribed, the total sum being £10,156. This result is largely due to the effective co-operation of committees in the Scandinavian countries and members of the Scandinavian colonies in London; and it has placed on a secure footing three lectureships in Scandinavian Studies, now known respectively as the Queen Alexandra Lectureship in Danish; the W. P. Ker Lectureship in Norwegian; and the Crown Princess Louise Lectureship in Swedish.

The College Committee were in a position in August to place a contract for the reconstruction of the Great Hall as a Centenary and War Memorial Hall. The contracts placed in August amount in round figures to £20,000, and towards that sum the College Committee had at their disposal a total sum of £7,905, derived partly from the money handed over from the War Memorial Fund, partly from a grant made in 1921–22 by the University Grants Committee, and partly from the Centenary Appeal subscriptions specially earmarked by donors for the Great Hall. The balance of £12,095 has at present been provided from unallocated subscriptions to the Centenary Appeal Fund. It is, however, the hope of the Centenary Appeal Committee that that balance will speedily be subscribed by old students of the College, who have not yet responded to the Centenary Appeal, so that the Great Hall may be the special gift of the Old Students of the College in the Centenary Year. The interest taken in this section of the Centenary Appeal by present students of the College is amply shown by the successful work of the Students' Appeal Committe, which has already collected £2,500, out of a total contribution of £5,000, which they aim at raising.

A generous second donation of £10,000, given by the Viscount Cowdray for Engineering Studies, has been added to the contributions given by other donors for the section of the Centenary Appeal concerned with the reconstruction and re-equipment of the Engineering Laboratories. The Senate have, on the recommendation of the University College Committee, named the Laboratory of Civil and Mechanical Engineering the Cowdray Laboratory, in recognition of the generous benefactions made by Lord Cowdray.

It is the hope of the College Committee and also of the Centenary Appeal Committee that, during the present year, much progress will be made with the largest section of the Centenary Appeal, viz., the sum of £225,000 required for the Endowment of Teaching. That fund affects directly and indirectly every department of the College, and its full subscription is essential to the financial stability and well-being of the College. Special efforts are being made by the Appeal Committee to secure endowments for individual Chairs, with a view to relieving the general financial position of the College.

CELEBRATION OF THE CENTENARY.

A Centenary Celebrations Committee has been appointed, and has decided that the Celebrations shall be held in the week beginning 27th June, 1927. The details of the programme are at present under consideration.

It is expected that the Centenary History of the College that is being prepared by Mr. H. H. Bellot, of the Department of History, will be ready when the Celebrations take place.

RECONSTITUTION OF THE UNIVERSITY.

The Departmental Committee on the University, appointed by Mr. Charles Trevelyan (President of the Board of Education) in October 1924, issued their Report in March 1926.

After careful consideration, and after the reception of a report from the Professorial Board, the College Committee expressed general approval of the proposals of the Departmental Committee. They noted with special satisfaction the stress laid in the Committee's report on the relationship between the courses of study and the examinations to follow them, the relationship to be such as to secure "academic freedom." The College Committee are glad to be able to report that the Senate have acceded to their request and have agreed to the College scheme for the Faculty of Engineering which secures that the degree examinations in Engineering shall be correlated with the teaching. They are still awaiting the decision of the Senate in regard to a similar request made in respect of the Faculty of Science.

The Government Bill appointing the Statutory Commissioners to make statutes "in general accordance with the recommendations contained in the Report of the Departmental Committee" became law on 15th December.

THE COLLEGE COMMITTEE.

Sir E. Cooper Perry, following on his retirement from the position of Principal Officer of the University, resigned his seat on the College Committee in November 1926. His knowledge of University affairs was of great service, and the Committee regret the loss of his wise counsel. Dr. Franklin Sibly, who succeeds to the Principal Officership, has been appointed to the vacant seat.

The Fellows of the College, in response to an invitation from the College Committee, submitted the names of three of their number for consideration in connection with the constitution of the Committee for the year beginning 1st March, 1926, and Dr. David Heron was appointed to a seat.

Colonel H. J. Harris was appointed in succession to Miss Geikie-Cobb, his name having been submitted by the Guild of Graduates.

The number of representatives of the Professorial Board on the College Committee has been increased from 6 to 7, and College Regulation 4 has been altered to provide that "there shall be at least one (other than the Provost) who is not a Professor." Dr. O. L. Brady has been nominated as the first non-professorial representative of the Board under this new regulation.

Professor A. J. Clark, Professor J. H. Morgan, and Professor M. T. M. Ormsby were elected representatives of the Professorial Board vice Professor A. V. Hill, Professor de Montmorency, and Professor Coker. On the resignation of Professor Clark, consequent on his appointment to the Chair of Materia Medica at Edinburgh, Professor Lovatt Evans succeeded him on the College Committee.

THE PROFESSORIAL BOARD.

Mr. A. E. Webb, Senior Lecturer in Civil and Mechanical Engineering, has been elected a member of the Board for the current Session, vice Mr. H. T. Davidge, as one of the six members of the Academic Staff selected by ballot under Statute 24(5) and Regulation 29.

Dr. WALTER SETON.

Since the preparation of this Report, the Committee have received, with the deepest regret, the news of the death on the 26th January, 1927, of Dr. Walter Seton, Secretary and Fellow of the College, after a brief illness.

At a General Assembly of the College on 27th January, the following Resolution was Moved by the Dean of the Faculty of Arts (Mr. Norman Baynes),

Seconded by the President of the Union Society (Mr. C. M. Wright),

Supported by the Warden of University College Hall, Ealing (Mr. E. H. Thierry), and adopted:—

> That this Assembly of the Staff and Students of University College, London, desire to express their sorrow and deep regret at the death of the Secretary of the College, Dr. Walter Warren Seton.
> In doing so they wish to record their high appreciation of the loyal and devoted services rendered by Dr. Seton to the College, the University, and to learning, by his multifarious activities and zealous devotion.
> Among his many services they recall the large share he had in the foundation of the Hall at Ealing and its subsequent establishment on a firm basis by him in his capacity as Warden; they recall also the skill and enthusiasm shown by him in commemorating the great work of Professor Sir William Ramsay, resulting in the institution of the Ramsay Chair of Chemical Engineering and in the foundation of the scheme of international Ramsay Fellowships.
> In the arrangements for the forthcoming Centenary, and especially in the Centenary Appeal, Dr. Seton had taken the leading part, and whatever success may attend that celebration will be primarily due to his initiative.

In this as in all his activities he showed remarkable courage and wide vision, thereby evincing a faith in the destinies of the College that few can equal.

They recall the active share he took in the daily life of the College, both among the Staff and the Students, in which he aimed at helping to fulfil his ideals of the meaning of an Academic Community. His sympathetic work for St. Christopher's Club was another aspect of the strength of this side of his work. By instituting as an annual event the performance of "The Little Plays of St. Francis" by members of the Dramatic Society, he placed before the College a reminder of one of the most remarkable examples of unselfish service that the world has known.

This Assembly desires to convey to the members of Dr. Seton's family their respectful sympathy in the great sorrow that has fallen upon them.

A Memorial Service was held at St. Pancras Church on 28th January, and was attended by the College as a Body.

The College Committee, at their meeting on 1st February, adopted the following Resolution :—

That the University College Committee desire to express their deep regret at the death of Dr. Seton, and to record their warm appreciation of the great value of the services he rendered to the College during the twenty-three years he held the office of Secretary.

By his zeal and enthusiasm he contributed in no small measure to the growth and developments that have taken place.

That the University College Committee desire to convey to Sir Bruce and Lady Seton, and through them to the other members of the family, their sincere sympathy on the great loss that has fallen upon them jointly with the College.

ARMISTICE DAY.

On Thursday, 11th November, 1926, the customary Armistice Day Celebration was observed jointly with the Hospital and Medical School in the Main Quadrangle. The following brief summary of matters supplementary to the Report presented at the Assembly of Faculties is given here to make the record of the year as complete as possible:—

FACULTY OF ARTS.

The Faculties of Arts and Laws continue to feel the pressing need for more spacious accommodation and for more Private Rooms for members of the Academic Staff. This need has been emphasised in the Centenary Appeal, the sum of £25,000 being asked for the purpose.

The Bartlett School of Architecture.

The Report of the Professor on the Bartlett School of Architecture for the Session 1925–26 is appended hereto (p. 99). It is gratifying to note that Students of the School have once more succeeded, in competition with others, in carrying off some important awards, thus giving evidence of the good work done. Since the Professor drew up his Report, news has been received that, for the second time in succession, the Victory Scholarship (Gold Medal and premium of £150) of the Royal Institute of British Architects has gone to a Student of the Bartlett School, Mr. H. T. Dyer. For the Session 1926–27 a hundred and thirty-one Students are enrolled, of whom twenty-three are working for the Degree and forty-three for the Diploma or Certificate.

The Slade School.

The Slade School continues to be quite full, and there are always Students waiting for admission when room can be found for them. The election of Mr. Walter W. Russell as a Royal Academician was a source of gratification to his colleagues of the Staff. The scheme for practical work in Decorative Painting by Students of the School has worked so successfully that it is being continued. Two old Students, Mr. Colin Gill and Mr. W. T. Monnington, were chosen to do decorations for the House of Commons, and Mr. Rex Whistler to decorate the Refreshment Room at the National Gallery. The generous interest shown by Sir Joseph Duveen in this work has made it possible to develop and continue it. An additional room in the basement has been fitted up as a workshop for the School, where canvases can be prepared and paints mixed.

History of Art.

The initial period for which the Chair in the History of Art was instituted expired at the end of 1926. Lady Durning-Lawrence having approved a proposal that a portion of her generous gift to the Centenary Appeal Fund (£5,300) which had been allotted to the Endowment of Teaching should be used for the permanent endowment of this Chair, it was possible to re-appoint Professor Tancred Borenius without limit of time up to the age fixed for retirement. In memory of the munificent contributions made to the College by the late Sir Edwin Durning-Lawrence and of Lady Durning-Lawrence's contribution to the Centenary Appeal Fund, the Chair has been named the Durning-Lawrence Chair of the History of Art.

School of Librarianship.

The resignation by Sir Cooper Perry of the Chairmanship of the School of Librarianship Committeee, which he had held since its inception, was received with great regret, as he had guided the deliberations of the Committee in the difficult early stages of the foundation of the School with great tact and discretion. Mr. A. E Twentyman, one of the representatives of the Library Association on the Committee, has been elected as his successor.

The London County Council, recognising the value of the part-time training provided for persons employed in Librarianship, have made a grant of £200, in return for which Free Places for Library Assistants within the Administrative County of London have been given.

The Director's report on the School for the Session 1925–26 is appended (p. 93). He again presents a satisfactory list of appointments obtained by Students who have qualified. For the Session 1926–27 a hundred and twenty-one Students are enrolled, of whom ninety-two are working for the Diploma. The establishment of the School of Librarianship on a permanent financial basis is one of the problems that have yet to be solved; it is clear that the School meets a distinct need and that the work must be continued.

Scandinavian Studies.

In the section of this report relating to the Centenary Appeal, the satisfactory conclusion of the efforts made to establish the Department of Scandinavian Studies on a permanent financial basis is recorded. It is a source of gratification to the College Committee to know that this new branch of the work, which has created so much interest, is now provided for. They realise that the result could not have been achieved without the hearty co-operation of members of the three Scandinavian countries, including those resident in England. They are glad to take this opportunity of expressing their sincere thanks to all who have laboured for the promotion of these studies and for the establishment of a further link between Norway, Sweden, Denmark, and this country.

In April 1926, by kind permission of His Excellency the Danish Minister, two exhibitions of the Denmark Film were given at the College; about 400 persons in all attended.

Dutch Language and Literature.

The scope of the Department of Dutch Language and Literature has been extended by the arrangement of a course last Session for the B.A. Honours Degree and of Postgraduate Lectures in Mediæval Dutch for Students of the Departments of History and German. It is hoped to include classes in Afrikaans and the Frisian Language at an early date.

Phonetics.

The Department of Phonetics continues to be a valuable auxiliary to the work of the Modern Language Departments and attracts large numbers of Foreign Students; one hundred and sixty-six of these enrolled last Session as compared with eighty-two in the previous Session. Professor Daniel Jones and several members of his staff have delivered lectures in various Continental cities, including Paris, Stockholm, Florence, Leipzig, Dresden, Frankfurt, Düsseldorf, and Bonn, mainly in the vacations; and Mr. Lloyd James gave broadcast lectures on English Phonetics for Foreign Students weekly throughout last Session.

Egyptology.

The Annual Summer Exhibition of the results of the field-work of the British School of Archæology in Egypt was held in July It showed further results of excavations in the settlements Badarian Age in the Fayum, amongst which were many fossil bones and prehistoric implements, the latter including serrated flints, of which some were found set in a straight wooden handle as a sickle. The investigation of the terraces of the Nile Valley and the gravel deposits are of the greatest importance for the sequence of climatic oscillations and the consequent identification of the palæolithic periods in Egypt. As the conditions of excavation in Egypt have now become unfavourable, Professor Sir Flinders Petrie and members of his School are carrying out researches this season in Southern Palestine, in order to trace the earliest stages of civilization and link them with the discoveries already made in Egypt.

FACULTY OF LAWS.

In order to meet the new requirements of the Laws Syllabus, the title of the honorary lectureship held by Count Leon Ostrorog has been changed from that of Ottoman Law to "Mohammedan Public Law and Turkish Land Law."

FACULTY OF SCIENCE.

Physiology and Biochemistry.

Professor C. A. Lovatt Evans took up the work of the Jodrell Chair, in succession to Professor A. V. Hill, at the beginning of the current Session. By the departure of Dr. G. V. Anrep to take up the Lectureship at Cambridge, the department has suffered a considerable loss. The research work is strengthened by the fact that two Foulerton Professors of the Royal Society, Professor Starling and Professor A. V. Hill, are at work in the department. Twenty-six postgraduate Students carried out investigations in the Session 1925–26; the long list of original papers is a continued evidence of unabated activity.

A series of special lectures, primarily arranged for Students of the Departments of Physiology and Biochemistry and Zoology, on Comparative Physiology is being held during the current term by Mr. C. F. A. Pantin, of the Plymouth Marine Biological Laboratory.

Zoology.

The need for more adequate accommodation for the Department of Zoology and Comparative Anatomy in close proximity to the Departments of the Medical Sciences is one of the urgent needs included in the Centenary Appeal. Until such provision can be made for it, the work of the department is greatly hampered.

Chemical Engineering.

During the Session 1925–26, eight postgraduate Students were at work in the Ramsay Memorial Laboratory, of whom two came from overseas. During the Long Vacation, four underwent courses on factory plants, and other requests for assistance have been received from industrial firms. Messrs. Nobel have awarded an Industrial Scholarship, for maintenance during a period of work in their factory, to a Student of the department. Thus progress is being made in the co-operation between science and industry, which is one of the most valuable parts of the work. No difficulty has been found in obtaining posts for qualified Students.

Applied Mathematics.

The Department of Applied Mathematics has acquired a valuable addition to its astronomical equipment by the purchase of a new Wild Universal Theodolite, embodying a number of novel features, the testing and study of which has already yielded considerable information in respect of improved determinations of position. Progress has been made with the measurement and reduction of sun-plates previously taken.

FACULTY OF ENGINEERING.

The Faculty of Engineering has experienced a great loss by the resignation of Professor J. A. Fleming, Pender Professor of Electrical Engineering. This is best expressed in the following resolution adopted by the Senate on the recommendation of the College Committee and the Professorial Board:—

> That the Senate record their great regret at the resignation of Professor J. A. Fleming, F.R.S., of the Chair of Electrical Engineering held by him since its foundation in 1885; that they place on record their sense of the great importance of his achievements in this field of applied science, especially in connection with the development of transformers, the carbon filament lamp, the measurement of electro-magnetic waves, and later the invention of the thermionic valve. His eminent qualities as a teacher and as an organiser of laboratory work have endeared him to successive generations of Students. They express the hope that he may have many years of leisure and health to continue his scientific work in a field in which he has achieved such great distinction.

It is gratifying to record that Professor Fleming has consented to retain his active connection with the College during this Session by accepting the office of Special Lecturer in Electro-Communications. It is hoped at an early date to establish a part-time Chair in that branch of the subject.

Mr. W. C. Clinton, Fellow of the College and for many years a valuable member of the Faculty, both as Assistant Professor of Electrical Engineering and as Sub-Dean of the Faculty, has succeeded Professor Fleming in the Pender Chair. His appointment has caused universal satisfaction in the College, to which, in addition to his academic labours, he has rendered devoted service as adviser in all electrical matters affecting the buildings, both old and new.

The question of the continuance of the Sub-Department of Heating and Ventilating Engineering has been carefully considered, and it has been decided that the provision of an undergraduate course and the offer of a Diploma in Heating and Ventilating Engineering shall be, for the time being at all events, discontinued. The Course of Lectures required for the Architectural curriculum will be maintained. A decision has not yet been reached as to the continuance of the Research Laboratory.

The establishment of a special form of the B.Sc.(Eng.) so as to secure the proper correlation of the examinations with the courses of study is probably the most important event of the year (see p. 21).

FACULTY OF MEDICAL SCIENCES.

In the Department of Anatomy, further progress has been made in developing the study of Comparative Neurology. Several neurologists from the Continent and America have visited the department in connection with this work. The building up of a standard set of radiograms to illustrate the normal structure of the body is also progressing, Professor Moody, of the University of California, having given assistance last Session; and successful efforts have been made in X-ray surgical kinematography, as a result of which photographs of bone movements at their normal speed have been secured. This marks an important stage in the means of studying the human body.

Of the eight postgraduate Students in the Department of Pharmacology last Session, six held Fellowships of the Rockefeller Foundation of New York.

THE LIBRARY.

The accessions to the Library during the Session 1925–26 amounted to 17,464 volumes and 6,409 pamphlets, of which 16,475 volumes and 6,214 pamphlets have been presented. The total number of volumes and pamphlets at the end of the Session was 280,256.

During the Session the Library has received by bequest from the late Mr. W. W. Rouse Ball, a Fellow of the College, the sum of £500. This sum has been invested, and the income is to be applied annually to the purchase of mathematical periodicals and books.

Mr. Huxley St. John Brooks has deposited in the College Library on permanent loan an extremely valuable collection of some 1,000 books and pamphlets dealing with the study of Dante. This collection supplements the Dante Library in a most admirable way, and places this branch of the College Library in the front rank of such collections.

The very valuable and useful library formed by the late Sir John F. Rotton, K.C., has been received by the College in accordance with the terms of the will. This collection contains some 13,800 volumes and pamphlets, all in excellent condition, and many of them richly bound. The main subjects covered are the literature and history of England, France, and Italy, particularly of the 18th century; classics, economics, law, and fine art are also represented. The books forming this gift were accompanied by a large number of bookcases and a sum of £500.

607 volumes and 2,509 pamphlets from the library of the late Dr. Israel Abrahams were purchased by the Jewish Historical Society and presented to the College Library.

The donations made during the Session also include the following items of special interest:—

(a) A collection of 128 books from the library of Her late Majesty Queen Alexandra, presented by the Danish Minister.

(b) A sum of £12 10*s*. 0*d*, for books for the Medical Sciences Library, presented by Lady Bayliss.

(e) A collection of 22 Scandinavian books, presented by Sir Edmund Goose.

(f) A sum of £10 for binding books in the Scandinavian Library, and 13 Scandinavian books, presented by Mr. I. C. Gröndahl.

(g) A sum of £10 for books for the Edwards Library of Egyptology, presented by Mr. J. L. Starkey.

(h) A collection of 59 volumes, presented by Mrs. T. A. Stephens.

(i) The valuable typed documents compiled by the late Mr. George Whale, which form a subject index to those persons mentioned in the Dictionary of National Biography who have at any time lived or travelled abroad, presented by Mrs. George Whale.

Mr. L. Newcombe, Librarian of the College since 1922 and a member of the Staff since 1901, tendered his resignation at the end of the Session on his appointment as Chief Executive Officer and Librarian of the Central Library for Students. Mr. Newcombe had been a very loyal and very valuable member of the College, and his resignation was accepted with real regret. The Committee desire to record in this Report their great appreciation of Mr. Newcombe's extremely efficient administration of the Library. He has supervised with marked success a very large and important department of the College during a period of rapid growth. The College Committee has appointed to the position thus vacated Mr. J. A. Wilks, M.A., formerly Sub-Librarian.

Miss J. Pearson, who had been a Pupil-Assistant in the Library, was appointed a full-time Member of the Staff at the commencement of the Session, her place as Pupil-Assistant being filled by Miss K. Edwards.

A large collection of works dealing with local history of the British Isles has been catalogued and arranged on the new steel shelving at the south end of the bookstore above the Science Library.

During the Session 1925–26, 612 Students held keys of the various Arts Libraries, 395 of the Science Library, 130 of the Ramsay Reading Room, 34 of the Geography Library, and 117 of the Medical Sciences Library. The number of books issued for home reading was 13,004.

Donations to the Library are recorded on pp. 102–107.

EVENING, VACATION, AND SPECIAL MEETINGS.

The evening activities of the College are steadily increasing, so that the buildings are now open on five evenings of the week for the purpose of special work, mainly of a postgraduate character.

In the Evening and Post-graduate School of History, the number of Students enrolled for the current Session is 146. The work of the School is highly appreciated by school teachers and specialists in History.

The number working in the Evening School of Geography is 108, which is an increase on last Session.

The Evening School of Phonetics and of Spoken Language attracts large numbers of teachers of Modern Languages, and its influence on methods of language teaching is rapidly spreading. There are 148 Students registered for the current Session.

Vacation Courses in Spoken English for Foreign Students and in German Phonetics for Teachers of German, the latter conducted by Professor Paul Menzerath, of the University of Bonn, were organized in the summer, and were attended by 269 persons.

The meetings of the Philological Society, the Geologists' Association, the Jewish Historical Society, the Folk Lore Society, and the University Faculty of Laws Society are held regularly in the College.

In addition to these, other Societies, including the Classical Journals Board, the British Psychological Society, the British Mycological and Ecological Societies, the Montessori Fellowship, and the Society of Glass Technology have met from time to time.

The following have also held meetings at the College:—The London Branch of the Mathematical Society, the Society of Biometricians, the Biochemical Society, the Chemical Society, the Faraday Society, the Physiological Society, the London Section of the Incorporated Society of Musicians, the University of London Musical Society, the National Union of Students, the Union of Jewish Literary Societies, the Modern Humanities Research Association, and the School Nature Study Union.

The Fifteenth Annual Conference of Educational Associations was held in January 1927; also an Exhibition of Modern Printing arranged by the Bibliographical Society. The University of London Historical Society and the Consultative Committee of London Colleges and Secondary Schools dined in the College Refectory. Accommodation was provided for the University Tutorial Classes Summer School.

On 12th July the Anglo-American Conference of Historians held their opening meeting at the College and were entertained to tea.

On 24th July the Hampstead Antiquarian Society visited the College.

On 22nd September, Foreign Delegates to the Jubilee Celebrations of the Mineralogical Society were received at the College and visited the Johnston-Lavis Geodynamical Collection.

On 29th November the Annual Charter Day Dinner was held.

STUDENTS' ACTIVITIES.

The following brief résumé is based on the Society Reports received for the Session 1925-26, supplemented in some cases by more recent information :—

The Union Society and the Women's Union Society record another session of steady progress. Much energy has been spent in support of the Union Societies' Centenary Appeal Committee with gratifying results. The Inter-Union Standing Committee continues to act as a valuable link between the two Societies by co-ordinating their social activities. In Foundation Week last March, the play presented by the Dramatic Society was "The Mask and the Face" which was produced with great success by Mr. Alan S. Gilbert. The Foundation Oration was delivered by the Provost, Sir Gregory Foster, on "These Hundred years." Apart from the inspiration of the Oration itself, it was of exceptional interest, being the first Centenary function within the College walls. The Foundation Dinner was held in the College Refectory, and the Foundation Dance in the temporary Great Hall. An interesting new feature of the Week was an Exhibition of the work of the Staff and Students of the Slade School. A Debate was also arranged.

The athletic activities of the Union Society have been well maintained. At the Athletic Ground at Perivale, the relaying of the West ground and the draining of the Haslam ground have been completed, thus providing for five pitches that should prove drier than any on the main ground. At the Inter-collegiate Sports in June, 1926, the competition for the Rosebery Majority Cup resulted in a tie between Guy's and University, each scoring 48 points.

The Women's Union Society have added to their number of athletic clubs by the organisation of a Fencing Club, which was most successfully inaugurated in November, 1926, by a Demonstration in the Botanical Theatre, at which many distinguished exponents of the art appeared. The Women's Athletic Union reached all the final rounds of the Inter-collegiate Cup matches and succeeded in carrying off the Netball Cup.

The Faculty Societies record a year of good work for the social and athletic welfare of the respective Faculties. In addition to the organisation of Dinners, Dances, and Socials, a great effort has been made by each Society to increase its Faculty contribution to the Students' Centenary Appeal Fund. By their second Centenary Bazaar, the Faculty of Arts Society succeeded in raising nearly £400. The Faculty of Science Society held a Centenary Appeal Dance at the Hyde Park Hotel, which was attended by about 250. The Faculty of Laws Society arranged a Mock Trial, over which Mr. Justice McCardie presided. The Medical Society has held two Dances in aid of the Fund; and the Engineering Society organised a Conversazione and Exhibition, the exhibits and demonstrations at which created much general interest. There have also been a Dance in the Slade School and dramatic performances by the students of the School of Architecture in aid of the Fund. These extra events, in addition to the regular meetings of each Society, which have been well maintained, have imposed a strain on the energies of the Students, and the Committee are glad to take this opportunity of expressing their appreciation of the zeal shown and the labour most cheerfully given for the good of the Centenary Appeal.

The Dramatic Society has maintained the reputation that it has established during recent years. In addition to the Foundation Play referred to above, Bernard Shaw's "Dark Lady of the Sonnets" and "Gruach" by Gordon Bottomley were produced in December 1926, the first by Mr. Alan S. Gilbert and the second by Mr. J. Locke Rendell, both with success. In January, 1927, a further series of "The Little Plays of St. Francis" by Laurence Housman, including some recently published, was presented under the direction of Mr W. A. G. Doyle-Davidson. This week of Franciscan Plays, now held for three years in succession, is an event of considerable interest, both to members of the College and to others, and the Dramatic Society has reason to be proud of the way in which that interest has been sustained. As in previous years, the British Society of Franciscan Studies and the St. Christopher's Working Boys' Club will benefit by the financial results.

The Musical Society has arranged further Chamber Concerts, to which Students and visitors have contributed, and the standard of the programmes has been well maintained. Concerts have also been arranged in connection with the Assembly of Faculties and the Foundation Oration. The Glee Club has been working hard and has already done much to improve the quality of general singing in the College community, and in making the songs in the College Song Book familiar. It also organised a successful concert in aid of University College Hospital.

Space does not permit a detailed account of the work of all the Special Societies, but the following have sent in reports showing that an active and successful year has been spent:—The Literary and Historical Societies, the French and German Societies, the Archæological and Classical Societies, the Ancient History Circle, the Geographical Society, the Botanical, Zoological, Physiological, Mathematical and Physical, and Chemical and Physical Societies, and the Scout Club. Many of these have received distinguished visitors and have taken their part in the general Centenary Appeal effort.

The College Branch of the Student Christian Movement and of the University of London Catholic Society are both very active and have held many meetings. The former has several Study Circles.

The Old Students' Association and the Guild of Graduates continue their important work of keeping past and present students in touch with one another and with College and University movements. The O. S. A. records an increasing number of new members, the total membership at the end of the Sesson 1925-26 standing at 804. There are encouraging signs of growing keenness in the social meetings, the last Annual Dance and Dinner being organised most successfully. Mr. B. N. Parker continues to carry on the work of Honorary Secretary with unabated energy and enthusiasm. In this year of Centenary, which is a time of retrospect, as well as of looking forward, the need for close contact between the past and present is more strongly emphasized than ever.

The Guild of Graduates had arranged the usual Annual Dinner to New Graduates on the eve of Presentation Day, but it could not be held on account of the General Strike. The Guild has continued to do everything in its power to foster among its members a growing interest in University affairs.

The St. Christopher's Club for Working Boys in the neighbourhood of the College continues its work. Major-General the Rt. Hon. Lord Loch presided at the Annual Gymnastic Display in the College Gymnasium in June, and addressed the boys. Sir Alexander Gibb has accepted the office of Chairman of the Club, in succession to Sir George Aston resigned.

THE HALLS OF RESIDENCE.

On account of ill-health, Miss E. Brooks, Matron at University College Hall, resigned at the end of last session. Miss K. Luke has succeeded her.

Six months' leave of absence, from October 1926, has been granted to the Principal of College Hall, Miss Alleyne, in order that she may recover from the strain imposed on her during her tenure of office. In her absence Miss Dibblee is Acting-Principal. Miss Brodrick has increased the Mary Brodrick Fund, instituted by her for the benefit of residents of the Hall, by a further donation of £400.

University College Hall and College Hall, and their annexes, have been practically full during the whole year, subject only to occasional vacancies.

THE OLD FORGE, CHIDDINGLY, SUSSEX.

Memorial to Miss Winifred Smith.

A Committee was formed early in 1926 to take steps to establish a permanent and visible memorial to the late Miss Winifred Smith; it consists of members of the College and of College Hall, Byng Place (of which Miss Smith was Vice-Chairman). It was felt that there was no more fitting way of commemorating the influence she exerted on the life of the College during her tenure of the office of Tutor to Women Students than to continue the opportunities she afforded to women members of the College for rest and change at her country house at Chiddingly. With this end in view, an opportunity to acquire The Old Forge Cottage at Muddle's Green, close to Miss Smith's "Green Farm," was taken. Mrs. Knox, Miss Winifred Smith's sister, has kindly furnished and equipped the cottage, and already some women members of the College have availed themselves of it during the holidays and week-ends. Subscriptions to the Memorial amount at present to £378 5*s.*, of which £25 has been earmarked for an endowment fund. In order to carry out the Old Forge scheme it is necessary to bring the total to £500.

THE CRABB ROBINSON FUND.

During the financial year 1925–26, the following grants were made from the Income of the Crabb Robinson Fund :—

The Union Society—towards upkeep of the Athletic Ground, £75; in connection with Fives Court, £17 13*s.*; towards the Capital Cost of the Stage Property Room, £18. The Union and Women's Union Societies—for the renewal of wiring round Hard Tennis Court, £10. The Women's Union Society—towards the Perivale Athletic Ground, £50; Furnishing and Equipment of Perivale Pavilion, £20. College Hall—towards the Library, £10. University College Hall—towards the Library, £10. The Tutor to Women Students—for payment of Railway Fares in connection with visits of Women Students of reduced means to her country cottage, £10.

The following grants have already been made during the current year, being chargeable against the income of 1926–27 :—

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON, UNIVERSITY COLLEGE.

SCHOOL OF LIBRARIANSHIP.

DIRECTOR'S REPORT

SESSION 1925–26.

During the Seventh Session of the School of Librarianship the admissions were as follows:—

Full-Time Men	9	Part-Time Men	20
Full-Time Women ..	46	Part-Time Women ..	26
	55		46

Total 101

[The corresponding figures for 1924–25 were 63, 43, and 106.]

Of the first-year Students, 39 were registered for the full Diploma Course; of the second-year Students 27 were so registered.

The results of the examination were as follows:—

Part I.				Part II. and whole examination.
No. of Cand.	Passed.	Ref. in one sub.	Failed.	No. of Cand.	Passed.	Ref. in one sub.	Failed.
30	18	5	7	27	*23	2	2

* Includes two graduates taking whole examination.

Seventy Sessional Certificates were gained by 34 Students not passing in Parts I. or II. of the Diploma Examination. Seven Library Association Certificates were gained by six Students.

The School of Librarianship Prize was awarded to Miss Jessie R. Waller, who won the Entrance Exhibition for 1924–26, and the Director's Prize for Book-Selection to Mr. G. E. Haslam.

The Entrance Exhibition for the Sessions 1926–28 was awarded to Mr. S. B. Gardner, and two free places in the School were awarded for the same period to Miss Winifred M. Chadband and Miss Ethel Littman respectively. It is worth noting that previous grants of Exhibitions and Free Places have all been amply justified by the records of the Students concerned.

A Medal to be awarded annually to the most distinguished of the Diploma Candidates of the year has been founded by Mr. Donald A. MacAlister in memory of his father Sir John Y. W. MacAlister, who took the initiative in founding the School of Librarianship. A design by Mr. George Thomas has been approved by the School of Librarianship Committee, and the Medal will be ready for award at the end of the Session 1926–27.

In addition to the regular courses, short series of lectures are now being given in alternative years by Mr. Sayers. Mr. Esdaile, and Mr. Headicar on special branches of Bibliography and of modern Library Economy, such as "The Organisation of a County Library," "Commercial and Industrial Libraries," and "Library Work with Children." These are proving useful expansions of the ordinary courses. The advanced course on Abstracting, Indexing, and Classification, however, which was instituted in response to an appeal from the Conference of Special Libraries, came to an end during the second term owing to the small attendance; at present there does not seem to be an effective demand for highly technical instruction of this sort.

During the vacations most of the students performed periods of duty in a select number of the most modern and efficient library systems for the sake of obtaining experience: they have done work both useful to themselves and to the libraries which have accepted them as voluntary assistants.

A number of requests have been received from various libraries inviting Students to work as volunteers. Five Student-Assistantships are now available for Students in the School—two with the library of the University of London, one at University College, and two at Dr. Williams's Library. These have proved very helpful to Candidates for admission to the School who are in need of monetary assistance.

Dealing with the subject of Book-Selection, Students have continued to add to the huge mass of bibliographical information accumulated since the beginning of the School; this work has been regularly revised by Mr. G. F. Barwick and his predecessors in the office of University Examiner. It is very desirable that certain portions should be published for the benefit of librarians and readers, if a grant can be obtained for the purpose—some of it will appear shortly in "The Journal of Public Administration," other sections have proved useful to school libraries and other institutions.

The members of the Staff have co-operated loyally and zealously in the work of the School. Unfortunately, two are leaving us. Mr. Jenkinson, who has the credit of establishing and carrying on the first practical class for librarians in this country in Palæography and Archives, finds it impossible to continue as a lecturer, owing to his appointment as University Reader in Diplomatic; and Mr. Newcombe, who has been Assistant Director since the outset, and teacher of Practical Cataloguing since 1923, resigns these offices on his appointment as Principal Executive Officer and Librarian of the Central Library for Students. Both of them will be greatly missed, and have the best wishes of their colleagues. Mr. Jenkinson will be succeeded by Mr. V. S. Galbraith, M.A.(Oxon.), of the Public Record Office, formerly Assistant Lecturer in History in the University of Manchester. Mr. J. A. Wilks, M.A., Librarian of University College, London, succeeds Mr. Newcombe as Assistant Director, and Miss Norah Beale, B.A., Assistant Librarian, takes charge of the class in Practical Cataloguing. Mr. Esdaile has been appointed Secretary of the British Museum, but is not resigning from the School. Most members of the Staff have contributed to the various professional journals, and, with the collaboration of Prof. E. Richardson, of Princeton University, and other specialists they have prepared a work on "The Uses of Libraries," which is about to be published by the University of London Press. This should be of great practical utility to readers and students as well as to librarians.

The special library attached to the School is being steadily expanded. As a reference collection of bibliographical works, it ought to be useful to every member of the teaching Staff of the College. The additions during the Session are as follows:—

	Vols.	Pamphlets.
School of Librarianship.
Bought	141	11
Presented	9	3

A list of appointments and promotions obtained by Students during the year is appended.

EASTER VACATION SCHOOL, 1926.

The seventh Vacation School was held in 1926 at Florence, and at Easter instead of the usual summer period. The Committee of the British Institute at Florence kindly allowed the meetings and lectures to take place in their building, the Palazzo Antinori, the Director, Mr. Harold Goad, the Secretary, Mr. A. D. Williams, and Miss Berry rendering valuable help both beforehand in finding pension accommodation for the students and in many other ways during the course.

In response to a preliminary circular, 82 Students entered their names; and, as it might have been difficult in the time available to secure rooms for a larger number, it was decided not to issue any further advertisements. This number included 22 School of Librarianship Students, 13 members of the Staff of University College or members of their families, 14 members of Library Associations or their wives, and 33 other persons, including a number of librarians and teachers. Four Students were obliged to withdraw at the last moment.

The programme of lectures was a new one, including Contemporary English Poetry, by the Director, Dr. E. A. Baker; Modern Administrative Problems of Libraries, by Mr. W. C. Berwick Sayers; and Modern Tendencies and Methods in Library Provision, by Mr. C. R. Sanderson. A series of lantern lectures on Florentine History and Art was arranged by Mr. Goad, assisted by Signorina Celenza; it included two on Florentine Architecture by Mr. Martin Briggs. These evening lectures, like the course on Contemporary English Poetry, was attended by many members of the British Institute.

It had been arranged, in co-operation with the Department of Phonetics, that Mr. Lloyd James should hold a series of practical classes in English Phonetics for foreign Students. Only two entries were received for this before the party left England, and it was found impracticable to carry out the original programme: the subject was new to Italians, who were also deterred by the fees, which were far higher than those usually charged in Italy for educational courses. Eventually it was arranged that Mr. Lloyd James should deliver a Public Lecture on the subject under the auspices of the British Institute, and endeavour to form a class, with a number of Students attending the Institute School as a nucleus. The class was formed and continued at work for one week. The result was in a large measure satisfactory, Italian teachers and students being introduced to a subject in which they showed real interest; and Mr. Lloyd James is of opinion that, having thus broken the ground, he will be able to do really good work on a future occasion.

The party left England on the last day of term, Friday, 26th March, and travelled via Paris. They were met at the Gare du Nord by Dr. Dawson Johnston, European representative of the Library of Congress, and were taken on a motor trip round Paris, visiting the American Library, where they were welcomed by the Librarian, Mr. Burton E. Stevenson. They reached Florence on Saturday night, March 27th. The afternoons and week-ends were devoted to organised visits to the libraries, galleries, churches, etc. of Florence, and whole-day excursions were made to Fiesole, Siena, and San Gimignano, Pisa, Lucca, and Pistoja. One incident of special interest during the visit was a violin recital given at the British Institute by Mrs. Lloyd James, who used the opportunity to play music by modern British composers to an audience largely made up of Italians. The bulk of the party returned to England on Saturday, April 10th, arriving in London on Sunday afternoon, the others making a longer stay in Italy.

Travelling and housing arrangements worked without any serious hitch, and the whole experience proved thoroughly interesting and instructive.

Director.

REPORT ON THE BARTLETT SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE.

SESSION 1925–26.

The number of students registered in the School of Architecture for the Session 1925–26 is as follows:—

	Men.	Women.	Total.
Full-time Day Students—1st year ..	26	6	32

Total	125	22	147

* Including 8 in Atelier.

Several notable successes have been achieved by the students: four students were admitted to the final competition for the Rome Scholarship, and one of these, Mr. A. D. Connell, was adjudged the Rome Scholar, while another, Mr. B. R. Ward, won the Jarvis Studentship but was disqualified, as he was not registered as a student of the R.I.B.A.; a new prize (value £25) offered by the Proprietors of "Concrete Publications Ltd." was competed for and won by Miss Jessie M. Greig. One student, Mr. W. Scarlett, B.A.(Lond.), has been appointed Assistant in the Department of Architecture in the National University of Ireland.

Mr. Arthur Stratton, Reader and Tutor to the Department, has continued his valuable services of supervising the individual work of the students, and Mr. Hector Corfiato has been responsible for design work, under my supervision, both in the School and the Atelier. I am pleased to say that the Evening School has developed, thanks to Mr. W. R. Jaggard, Lecturer in Construction, and to Mr. Sidney Hyde, who has undertaken the tuition of a certain section of the Evening Students; the number of Evening School Students has increased from 20 (last session's total) to 34. I am more than satisfied with the services of the Instructor in Decorative Design, Mr. Warren Wilson, who has supervised the drawing and original designing by students of all years in connection with the decorative side of Architecture. A special course of study has been arranged at the British Museum and the Victoria and Albert Museum relating to the more technical branches of design in the studio.

I wish to express my thanks to Professor Adshead for his co-operation and for the training in Town Planning that he has given to my students.

Mr. Stratton has given several Public Lectures this Session and has lectured to intercollegiate students of the Department of History I have given Public Lectures on various subjects at Bedford, Cambridge, and Manchester. At the invitation of the National University of Ireland, I visited Dublin in February to give a Public Lecture and to inaugurate the Department of Architecture in that University.

Thanks to the co-operation of Professor Tonks, advanced students have been permitted to continue their studies from Life in the Slade School, and, as a reciprocal measure, certain Slade students have attended courses of lectures on the History of Architecture given by Mr. Stratton and myself. It is hoped to increase the scope of these inter-departmental lectures and to interest other Departments in the study of Architecture.

In collaboration with Professor Coker, a scheme is in vogue whereby Third and Fourth Year Students receive instruction in Reinforced Concrete and Steel Work from a member of his staff; facilities for training in these methods of construction are being extended. On December 17th, 1925, Professor Coker gave a lecture in the College to members of the R.I.B.A. and students of my Department on "Some Problems in Building considered experimentally," which was much appreciated.

With regard to publications, Mr. Stratton has been engaged on research work in connection with architectural design and history, and has published one book; I have published three books on architectural subjects in addition to contributions to the Architectural and Public Press.

A feature of the Department this session has been the continuous exhibition of students' work, augmented from time to time by fresh designs as they were completed. I am indebted to various practising architects for copies of working drawings and designs of buildings recently carried out or actually in process of erection; this collection, which can be referred to for technical information, is unique.

(Signed) A. E. RICHARDSON,

July 5th, 1926. Professor.

DEPARTMENT OF TOWN-PLANNING

I have to report that the number of students attending the Town-Planning Course during the Session 1925–26 has been 22. Of these, 10 are taking Town-Planning in connection with the Diploma Course in Architecture; 7 are taking the Certificate in Architecture, and 5 the Diploma. This is a slight increase on last Session.

In connection with the work of the School, a visit has been paid to St. Albans with a view to the preparation of surveys and development plans. Other areas selected for the purposes of practical demonstration were Hendon and Finchley.

This year three students presented themselves for the Certificate and passed the examination.

Of the two students who received the Diploma during last Session, Mr. Austin has obtained an important appointment in connection with the town-planning scheme for Heston and Isleworth, and Mr. Blake is engaged in erecting and laying out estates for several housing organizations.

Of the students who have been attending the Diploma Course this Session and had already attended two previous Sessions and obtained their Certificates, Mr. Beaufoy is engaged in the preparation of important town-planning schemes in the Thames Valley, and Mr. Heck has obtained the position of Town-planning Assistant to a Rural Authority in Essex. Mr. Benton has recently been employed as Town-Planning Assistant to the Rotherham Rural District Council.

The proposal for a bridge at Charing Cross with a roadway under the Strand, which was prepared by Mr. C. D. J. Benton and won the Lever Prize last year, has been publicly exhibited on several occasions and has recently been very favourably criticised by the Joint Committee of the Societies interested in the Thames Bridges.

(Signed) S. D. ADSHEAD,
Professor of Town-Planning.
